“We need a new spatial contract. In the context of widening political divides and growing economic inequalities, we call on architects to imagine spaces in which we can generously live together.”

Hashim Sarkis

HOW WILL WE LIVE TOGETHER?

The 17th International Architecture Exhibition, in Venice from 22 May to 21 November 2021, is titled How will we live together?. As curator Hashim Sarkis explains, “the theme of the Biennale Architettura 2021 is its title”: organized into five different scales, the Exhibition presents the Participants who will compete for the Golden Lion and also includes a series of research stations developed by researchers from universities around the world.

Volume I of the Catalogue is dedicated to the International Exhibition, curated by Hashim Sarkis, and begins with an essay setting out the themes of the show and presenting its protagonists. Architects and studios therefore illustrate their projects with images and texts.

Volume II of the Catalogue presents the National Participations, a Special Project in collaboration with Victoria and Albert Museum and the Collateral Events of the 17th International Architecture Exhibition; lavishly illustrated, it includes texts that explore the various projects on display.

The graphic design of the Biennale Architettura 2021 coordinated image and the layout of the volumes are by Omnivore, Inc.

Hashim Sarkis is an architect, educator, and scholar. He is principal of Hashim Sarkis Studios (HSS), established in 1998 with offices in Boston and Beirut. He is also the Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) since 2015.

“The question How will we live together? is at once an ancient one and an urgent one. It is also as much a social and political question as a spatial one.”

Hashim Sarkis

A JOURNEY THROUGH THE BIENNALE ARCHITETTURA 2021

The Short Guide to the Biennale Architettura 2021, titled How will we live together?, is designed to lead visitors through the exhibition spaces of the Arsenale and the Giardini, and point them to other projects situated throughout the city of Venice during the 17th International Architecture Exhibition curated by Hashim Sarkis, whose introduction explores the themes of the show and presents the protagonists.

Hashim Sarkis is an architect, educator, and scholar. He is principal of Hashim Sarkis Studios (HSS), established in 1998 with offices in Boston and Beirut. He is also the Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) since 2015.

Both a practical guide and a souvenir volume, the book introduces the readers to the work of the Participants who will compete for the Golden Lion and to the other projects in the International Exhibition. The National Participations, a Special Project in collaboration with Victoria and Albert Museum and the Collateral Events taking place across the Metropolitan City of Venice between 22 May and 21 November 2021 are also described.

“Architecture shapes the monuments, the memories, and the expressions of societies and groups, creating a common language with which they debate and communicate their experiences and cultures.”

Hashim Sarkis

CO-HABITATS

For the Biennale Architettura 2021, in addition to the Exhibition Catalogue and the Short Guide, the curatorial team has put together two distinct volumes, entitled Expansions and Co-habitats, in order to further elaborate on the theme of How will we live together?. These books will appeal to a wide range of readers both from architecture and art communities and beyond, to include anyone who is interested in the role that creative practice can play in collectively answering the complex challenges posed by today’s unstable world.

Hashim Sarkis is an architect, educator, and scholar. He is principal of Hashim Sarkis Studios (HSS), established in 1998 with offices in Boston and Beirut. He is also the Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) since 2015.

Conceived as a record that delves deeper into a special section of the Exhibition, Co-habitats comprises essays and visual material that look to the theme of the Biennale Architettura 2021 from the lens of a specific geographic location. While the Main Exhibition is primarily organized in five parts that contemplate a new spatial contract at five scales—as diverse beings, as new households, as emerging communities, across borders, and as one planet—this volume as well as the section of the show it is associated with, present analytical examples that speak to all five of them at once. The essays examine past and current practices of coming together in and around Venice, as well as in Addis Ababa, Beirut, India, Rio de Janeiro, Hong Kong, New York, Prishtina, and more.

EXPANSIONS

For the Biennale Architettura 2021, in addition to the Exhibition Catalogue and the Short Guide, the curatorial team has put together two distinct volumes, entitled Expansions and Co-habitats, in order to further elaborate on the theme of How will we live together?. Expansions, edited by Hashim Sarkis and Ala Tannir, gathers over eighty responses to the question posed by the Biennale Architettura 2021’s theme. These contributions act as an extension to the different thematics presented by Participants in the galleries in Venice. Assembling the voices and views of authors from various fields associated with architecture—academics, curators, journalists, students, and more—this volume includes a collection of short essays that reveal recurring themes that are currently of interest to different architecture and design communities around the world. These include multispecies worlding, social and economic justice, the history of twentieth-century modern spatial practices, environmental concerns, public modes of transportation, as well as examinations and contestations of the digital/analog binary, among others.

The graphic design and the layout of the volume are by Omnivore, Inc.
